

Cultural Daily

Independent Voices, New Perspectives

4 Tips from Nature on Developing a Loving Relationship

Rob Lang · Wednesday, February 8th, 2017

[alert type=alert-white]Please consider making a tax-deductible donation now so we can keep publishing strong creative voices.[/alert]

The old cliché goes, “there are many fish in the sea”—when you find your fish (or in this case, vegetable) and you’re sure that they’re the “one”—you’d better stick to your guns!

Be sure not to drop an eggplant in the ocean!

Be sure to participate in activities that you might not like so much but your mate enjoys. You’ll be more likely to have your partner join you in activities that they don’t necessarily think is fun.

That would take a lot of lessons.

Once you’re settled together and the years go by, remember to appreciate the little things your partner DOES do.

Maybe he should fly around the block a couple times.

Most couples eventually have kids. Please remember that what works for some families doesn’t work for everybody.

Don’t compare parenting philosophies.

This entry was posted on Wednesday, February 8th, 2017 at 8:57 pm and is filed under Comics. You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments \(RSS\) feed. You can skip to the end and leave a response. Pinging is currently not allowed.