

Cultural Daily

Independent Voices, New Perspectives

5 Reasons Why a Chocolate Hamper Makes a Great Gift

Our Friends · Monday, February 22nd, 2021

Ah, the joys and sorrows of gift-giving. It seems like the more you enjoy giving gifts, the harder it is to find the right ones. No wonder, with an endless number of products available on the market, no one can be sure whether they're making the right choice. Things become even harder when you're buying a gift for that person who has everything or the one that's impossible to decipher. Oh, and not to mention that horrible scenario where you, the ultimate gift-giver, forget about that special occasion and you're now frantically going from store to store for last-minute shopping.

But what if I told you there's a gift that puts a smile on everyone's face, works for every occasion and is easily available? You're probably already guessing, yes, it's chocolate. Chocolate has a rich taste, and an even richer history. It's been a part of traditional gift-giving for centuries. Right next to flowers, chocolate is the most popular present option on the planet.

But does this mean that you should just grab any box of choccies from the store and be good to go? No. There's a way that you can take this gift from simple to impressive. Meet chocolate gift baskets, the loveliest gifts that ever existed. And this isn't just an empty statement, there're at least 5 reasons why chocolate hampers make a great gift.

Almost Everyone Loves Chocolate

Let's start with the most obvious reason. If there's anything that unites most people of the world together, that's the love of chocolate. No matter who you are, where you're from or how old you are, it's likely that chocolate will put a smile on your face. Especially when it's gifted in abundance. And a chocolate hamper filled with your loved one's favourite treats gives you the opportunity to shower them with loads and loads of teeny-tiny gifts. Who can resist that?

Just imagine the surprise on their face when getting a whole bucket filled with the finest chocolate treats and with their name on it. Or a carefully crafted bouquet made of chocolate flowers delivered to their doorstep. Sounds pretty nice, right? But what if your special someone is responsible for that "almost everyone" part. Does everyone really like chocolate? Well, actually there's a small percentage of people who avoid it. Some are vegan, some struggle with diabetes and others are gluten intolerant. But worry not, chocolate doesn't discriminate. There're white, milk, dark, vegan, gluten-free and sugar-free chocolate hampers made to suit anyone's diet preferences.

Fully Customisable

There's nothing worse than a generic gift that instead of showing the person how much you care for them, shows how clueless you are about what to get them. Presents that lack a personal touch usually end up in dusty corners or they're quickly forgotten. But no one can forget a luxurious chocolate hamper that has been specially crafted for them.

You can add or remove stuff and have your say in everything from the size to the shape of the basket in order to create a gift that's bound to impress. Not only can chocolate sweet hampers be tailored for different individuals, but they can also be tailored to suit any occasion. From birthdays and weddings all the way to corporate events, chocolate sweet hampers can be a spot-on gift.

For instance, let's say you're buying a Valentine's Day gift for a special girl in your life. Instead of giving her lingerie that might not fit right or that cliché plush toy that says "I love you" in a creepy little voice, surprise her with a sweet chocolate gift basket that has all her favourite things included. Besides a selection of the finest Belgian choccies, I'm also talking about things like fluffy slippers, a silk eye mask, a bottle of bubbly etc.

Or if you want to spoil your mum on Mother's Day, you can opt for a sparkling pamper hamper that includes heart-shaped chocolates, the best body care cosmetics and of course, an exquisite bottle of white or red wine. After all, the queen that raised you certainly deserves to be pampered with the finest things.

Enough about the ladies, if you're buying a gift for that amazing man in your life, you can surprise him with a gift hamper that's packed to the brim with all things he loves. One of the things that have Aussie blokes going wild is craft beer. You can get him a craft beer tasting hamper filled with snacks and treats that'll delight his taste buds. If beer's not his thing, there's always gin or whiskey.

Thoughtful, yet Affordable

Another great reason why these personalised chocolate baskets should be your top choice when choosing a gift is that they're thoughtful. What can be a better gift than one that symbolises love and commitment? Chocolate hampers provide comfort, joy and happiness, no matter the occasion, even if it's just an ordinary day. Just think about how you'd feel if you received a chocolate basket when you're feeling down. There's something special about these gifts that shows how important that person is to you.

Oh, and another thing. Chocolate baskets are an excellent choice when you can't afford to splurge, but you still don't want to leave an impression of being cheap. There're gorgeously arranged chocolate hampers for less than $50.

Keep on Giving

You might be hesitant to give a chocolate hamper as chocolates are not something that the recipient can keep for a long time (especially if they can't control themselves and eat the entire hamper in one go). If you're thinking that a chocolate basket can't be a kind of gift that keeps on giving, you're wrong. Apart from chocolates, some of these hampers include lush plants that come packed in keepsake boxes. Now that's not only a gift that'll delight your loved ones at the moment, but it'll continue to do so for many years to come.

One of the best plants that can be included in a gift hamper is the Money Tree. Besides looking pretty, this plant is also believed to bring good luck and wealth into the home. What's more, this plant is very easy to care for; it only requires watering every one to two weeks.

Available Online

Still, wondering whether a hamper is a good gift? How about the fact that you don't have to waste hours and hours going from store to store? That's right, you can buy chocolate hampers online and add all the customising touches straight from your home. This certainly comes as a relief, especially around busy holidays.

This is also a lifesaver when you forget a birthday or forget to include someone on your Christmas shopping list. There're some godsend companies that offer same-day chocolate baskets delivery that won't give away your little secret.

With that being said, why not put a smile on someone's face today? It can even be yours! After all, you shouldn't have to wait for a special occasion to enjoy the sweet gift of chocolate.

Photo by Waldemar Brandt on Unsplash

This entry was posted on Monday, February 22nd, 2021 at 6:55 am and is filed under Uncategorized,

Sponsored

You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments \(RSS\) feed. You can skip to the end and leave a response. Pinging is currently not allowed.