Ann Haskins · Wednesday, October 22nd, 2025

Haunted ballet in El Segundo and downtown; Philippine ballet in Westwood; contemporary ballet in Hollywood and downtown; South Asian dance in Santa Monica; contemporary dance in Lincoln Heights, Beverly Hills, Culver City, and Hollywood; jazz dance in Lake Forest; more SoCal dance this busy week, plus a peek at next week.

Live This Week

All that glitters

After its world premiere at Australia's Brisbane Dance Festival last month, SoCal gets the U.S. premiere of LA Dance Project's Gems Trilogy. Choreographer Benjamin Millepied combined three earlier ballets—Reflections (2013), Hearts & Arrows (2014), and On the Other Side (2016)—set to music by David Lang and Philip Glass, reworking aspects of each, particularly the last one. The endeavor pays homage to George Balanchine's ballet Jewels which was inspired and underwritten by Van Cleef and Arpels, also a major sponsor of LADP. New York sees Gems next spring, but first continues this venue's presentation to dance. Wallis Center for the Performing Arts, 390 N. Santa Monica Blvd., Beverly Hills; Thurs.-Sat., Oct. 23-25. 7:30 pm, $42.90-$108.90. LA Dance Project—Gems.

Dances with objects

Continuing its impressive work with military veterans, Diavolo offers performances of Escape. Vets and Diavolo’s dancer/gymnasts move inside, outside, over and through the often outsized architectural structures that are signature elements of Jacques Heim’s choreography. Amping up the excitement, everything and everyone is up close and personal in the intimate studio setting. Proceeds support ongoing military and educational programs. L’Espace Diavolo Studios, 616 Moulton Ave., Lincoln Heights; Fri.-Sat., 8 pm, Sun., 6 pm, thru Sun., Nov. 23, 6 pm, $51.74-$93.14. Diavolo—Escape.
