Joan Blades on Arlene Blum

Julie Hébert · Wednesday, January 24th, 2018

Look What SHE Did! is delighted to share a new interview with the formidable Joan Blades (co-founder of MoveOn.org, MomsRising.org and LivingRoomConversations.org). Her recent TED Talk is nearing a million views!

Joan tells us about Dr. Arlene Blum, a scientist/mountaineer who led the first team of American women to scale Annapurna AND discovered the carcinogen in kids' pajamas. Arlene continues to work to rid our world of toxins with The Green Policy Institute. Both of these women are really rather amazing and we think you'll be inspired to hear Joan talk about her good friend Arlene.
