Record Submissions for the Jack Grapes Poetry Prize

Cultural Daily · Wednesday, September 5th, 2018

The submission period for the 6th Annual Jack Grapes Poetry Prize ended on August 31, and we have had a record number of submissions — over 1,200!

Thank you to all the poets who entered, and to our extraordinary and generous judges, F. Douglas Brown, Rocío Carlos, and Alexis Rhone Fancher, who will now begin to read all of the submissions. All submissions are being read anonymously, with all information identifying the poet masked from the judges.

Read more about our judges here.

Thank you also to all of our contributors, readers, and supporters, who continue to make this work possible.

Now, please be patient with us as we read through all the submissions! our judges

[alert type=alert-white]This is a labor of lovem but labors of love need money, too. Please consider making a tax-deductible donation now so we can keep publishing strong creative voices.[/alert]
