A Reminder for World Oceans Day

Rob Lang · Wednesday, June 7th, 2017

Just a reminder for this World Oceans Day—please think before you throw your stuff away. Dispose of your garbage properly.

Better yet, decline single-use plastics, like drinking straws, 6-pack holders and plastic bags. Not all the marine life will be lucky enough to have sawfish surgery.

Who knew that so much plastic in the oceans would lead to this career for Dr. Sawfish: the Conjoined Seal Surgeon?

If we keep up on our current behavior, we are going to wind up having to do things like this.

If you don't believe me, watch this movie!
