RICH FERGUSON, LOS ANGELES SPOKEN-WORD POET, NAMED CALIFORNIA'S BEAT POET LAUREATE

Cultural Daily · Wednesday, June 3rd, 2020

The National Beat Poetry Foundation, Inc. (NBPf), a not-for-profit organization founded in 2016, has selected Rich Ferguson to serve as the State of California Beat Poet Laureate for a two-year term from Sept. 2020 to Sept. 2022.

In May 2020 the NBPf board members selected Ferguson based on his peers' recommendations for his literary accomplishments and dedication to Beat-inspired poetry. Under this new title, the poet laureate's activities will continue to raise national consciousness about the Beat Generation while upholding the values and demonstrating the integrity of the Foundation in the community.

Ferguson, a Pushcart Prize-nominated poet, has shared the stage with Patti Smith, Wanda Coleman, Moby, and other esteemed poets and musicians. Widely anthologized, Ferguson's newest poetry collection, Everything is Radiant Between the Hates, will be released in the fall of 2020 (Moon Tide Press).

More information can be found at www-rich-ferguson.com.

The National Beat Poetry Foundation, Inc., which coordinates the "National Beat Poetry Festival", "International Beat Poetry Festival", and "Kerouac Cafe", will honor Ferguson, among other winners, at this year's annual Beat Poet Laureates Awards Ceremony and Dinner Celebration ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 5, 2020.

This event may be live or live-streamed online depending on conditions. Event details to be released closer to the date on www.nationalbeatpoetryfoundation.org.
