Samurai Song

When I had no roof I made
 Audacity my roof. When I had
 No supper my eyes dined.
 When I had no eyes I listened.
 When I had no ears I thought.
 When I had no thought I waited.
 When I had no father I made
 Care my father. When I had
 No mother I embraced order.
 When I had no friend I made
 Quiet my friend. When I had no
 Enemy I opposed my body.
 When I had no temple I made
 My voice my temple. I have
 No priest, my tongue is my choir.
 When I have no means fortune
 Is my means. When I have
 Nothing, death will be my fortune.
 Need is my tactic, detachment
 Is my strategy. When I had
 No lover I courted my sleep.

Former poet laureate Robert Pinsky's "Samurai Song" can be found in his Selected Poems, which is being published today in paperback by Farrar, Straus, and Giroux.
