Save a Bundle on TV and Internet Packages

Our Friends · Thursday, March 11th, 2021

The internet and cable industry in the United States is booming. This means that there are endless avenues for all the major stakeholders to expand in areas where these services are not widely available. Nevertheless, no matter where you live, you should know how to save on your monthly internet and TV bill. The best way of saving on these services is to bundle them when there are great promotions available. Bundles offer a convenient solution to get the services you need in a single plan. You get a single bill for all the services and some extra add-ons that otherwise would cost a lot.

These bundles are for the customers to get the best possible combination of high-speed internet and extensive channel lineups. Therefore, we came up with a list of all the top internet and TV packages that you can get right now. Without further ado, let's begin:

DIRECTV® CHOICE™ All Included + CenturyLink Internet

CenturyLink does not have a TV service of its own. CenturyLink Internet is one of the most reliable options for ultra-fast internet. The provider has DSL and fiber infrastructure. Linking such a great internet with one of the top TV services is an absolute thriller. DIRECTV Choice has an extensive channel lineup with over 185 channels including all the popular channels. The best thing about this plan is that there are no contracts. You get on-demand service for free to watch all your favorite movies and TV shows. The plan comes at a discounted price of $118.99 per month. This is the starting price and does not include the charges for the equipment, taxes, fees, and other surcharges.

Spectrum Silver Double Play

Spectrum needs no introduction for its outstanding internet and TV service. This veteran provider has been there for some time now and it is easier to say that it has taken over the broadband footprint with its extensive coverage to 41 states. Spectrum offers ultra-fast speeds starting from 100 Mbps. All Spectrum internet plans have unlimited data. The internet is free and included with the offer. Moreover, Spectrum TV has more than 170 channels in the lineup with all the premium channels such as HBO, Showtime, and NFL RedZone. There are no contracts and a 30-day money-back guarantee.

Spectrum offers a contract-buyout worth up to $500. The installation is at the discretion of the customer. You can opt for self-installation or professional installation. Self-installation allows you to set-up the service yourself.

WOW! Double Play

WOW! is a cable provider that offers great internet, TV, and phone plans. With its massive coaxial cable infrastructure, there are special fans for the needs of every household. The plan has high-speed internet with downloads speed up to 100 Mbps to support all your gaming, streaming, and download. You may qualify for a free installation on online orders. The WOW! channel lineup has more than 130 channels. There are no premium channels but you get the right mix of all the important channels. You can add a home phone to this TV and internet plan. The phone includes unlimited local and nationwide calling.

Cox Bronze Duo

Cox Communications is another top-of-the-line cable TV provider. Cox Bronze Bundle is an exciting plan that offers more than 140 channels in the lineup. The TV service is backed by state-of-the-art Contour TV service. The download speeds start from 150 Mbps and up to 10 Mbps upload. This is a great bundle as it has everything from high-speed internet to an extensive channel lineup.

The plan comes with a 2-year service agreement. You can skip the contracts by paying an extra amount every month. Most importantly, if you need hassle-free payment, sign-up for the auto-pay service. It will cost you $50 upfront and the monthly bill shall be deducted automatically from your account.

Final Verdict

Get these affordable bundles on TV and the Internet today to skip the hassle of separate payments for the services. Moreover, you may qualify for some extra features and bundles. Some of the bundles require you to be in a contract, while many of them offer contract-free service. It is better to avoid service agreements to avoid any related contingencies.
