You can go home again

The Montreal-based dance troupe RUBBERBAND arrives with Second Chances, choreographed by artistic director Victor Quijada. His work is known for capturing the energy of hip hop, the refinement of classical ballet, and the angularity of contemporary dance. The new work draws on Quijada's experience as a first-generation Mexican American growing up in LA, eventually settling in Canada, and tackling issues of identity and homeland, belonging and displacement. The BroadStage, 1310 11th St., Santa Monica; Sat., March 8, 7:30 pm, Sun., March 9, 2 pm, $40-$85. The BroadStage.

A welcome border crossing

Mexican folkloric dance is so prevalent today, it is hard to capture the impact of Ballet Folklórico de México de Amalia Hernández, when it first appeared and presented regional Mexican dances in a concert setting. The name was expanded to reference the visionary founder and distinguish it from the plethora of folkloric efforts it spawned. The celebrated company stops off at three local venues with its repertoire, including its consideration of ancient Aztec movement in the audience-pleasing Deer Dance. The Soraya, Cal State University Northridge, 18111 Nordhoff St., Northridge; Fri., March 14, 8 pm, Sat., March 15, 1pm, $49-$98. The Soraya. Also at Luckman Fine Arts Complex, Cal State University Los Angeles, 5151 State University Dr., East LA; Sun., March 16, 3 & 7 pm, $35-$85. Ticketmaster. Also at Segerstrom Center for the Arts, 600 Town Center Dr., Costa Mesa; Sat., March 22, $32.77-$77.97. SCFTA.

Professional polishing

More than just dance

Gala season is starting for SoCal dance companies offering performance and more. While social, these events fund company dancers and future performances beyond ticket sales. The Pacific Club, 4110 MacArthur Blvd., Newport Beach; Sat., March 8, 7:30 – 10 pm, $275 & up. Backhausdance.

Influential events

Originally commissioned for the Egyptian Pavilion at the 2024 Venice Biennale, the film installation Drama 1882 from Wael Shawky considers the events that countered a revolt against European colonial influence, resulting in Britain cementing its control of Egypt for another seven decades. Adapting the storied events into the form of an opera and performed in classical Arabic, Shawky choreographed, wrote, scored, and directed. This event is the latest in the museum's Wonmi's WAREHOUSE Programs. Related events include a conversation with Shawky and assistant curator Alex Sloane on Sat., Feb. 22 at 3 pm. WAREHOUSE, MOCA Geffen Contemporary, 152 N. Central Ave., Little Tokyo; Thurs. – Sun., thru March 16, 11 am, free w/reservation at Tickets.

The last of “friends”

Directed by legendary choreographer Matthew Bourne, with additional choreography from Stephen Mear, Stephen Sondheim’s Old Friends is headlined by Bernadette Peters, Lea Salonga, and a lineup of British and American musical theater luminaries. Perhaps because of Bourne’s long relationship with the Center Theater Group, LA nabbed the U.S. premiere before this Sondheim celebration goes to Broadway. Catch this stunner before it moves east. Music Center, Ahmanson Theatre, 135 N. Grand Ave., downtown; Tues.-Fri., 8 pm, Sat., 2 & 8 pm, Sun., 1 & 6:30 pm, thru March 9, $25 – $195.50. CTG.
